Johns Hopkins School of Medicine - Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Internet Live Conference

Course Director: Mouen Khashab, MD
Course Co-Directors: Alessandro Repici, MD
Mary-Rose Hess, BSN, RN, CGRN

Highlights

- Comprehensive 2 day virtual course dedicated to providing practicing gastroenterologists, endoscopists and endoscopy staff state-of-the-art updates on luminal and pancreatico-biliary diseases and endoscopy.
- Full-day of Live Endoscopy from Johns Hopkins and other centers of excellence.
- Free registration for world-wide audience.
- Superstar faculty from around the world.
- Demonstrations of the latest breakthroughs in endoscopic procedures, equipment and accessories.
- Combination of live endoscopy, short didactic presentations, interactive discussions, and interactive video case presentations.
- An audience response system will allow for dynamic and interactive sessions.

In short, HITEC 2021 will feature a detailed illustration of the optimal techniques to enhance endoscopic skills for the management of various luminal and pancreatico-biliary diseases, whilst concurrently introducing advanced and novel procedures/techniques to endoscopists, trainees, endoscopy nurses and technicians from around the world. We look forward to your participation at 7:50 a.m. EST on August 27, 2021 in HITEC 2021.
